

ESSEX WILDLIFE TRUST

PRIVACY & COOKIES POLICY

Status of this Document: April 2018

Date for Review: April 2020

1. Who are we?

Essex Wildlife Trust (EWT) is a leading nature conservation charity based in Essex. We are part of the federation of Wildlife Trusts around the UK with 38 in England, 6 in Wales and Trusts in Scotland, Northern Ireland, the Isle of Man and Alderney. Within the context of this policy EWT, 'we' and 'us' means the charity and its associates including Essex Wildlife Sales Ltd, Essex Ecology Services Ltd, Thameside Nature Park Ltd, Chafford Gorges Ltd and Wildlife Fundraising Central Ltd.

We employ over 200 people who work on a wide variety of areas to meet the objectives set out in our Constitution, for example to protect wildlife in Essex and to improve habitats on a landscape scale, to inspire children and adults in Essex about the natural world, to manage our 87 nature reserves, 2 nature parks and 11 visitor centres, to campaign for Marine Protected Areas and to influence government about the importance of the environment.

The complex array of pressures affecting wildlife means our approach varies. Loss of natural habitats, deregulation, major infrastructure projects, a lack of appreciation of nature's value to society, wildlife crime – all threaten our wildlife and wild places and affect our own wellbeing. Essex Wildlife Trusts' key role is our presence on the ground in local communities where we work with a wide range of different people, including landowners, businesses and local fishing industries, to try to achieve change for wildlife. We also often work in partnership with community groups and environmental and social Non-government Organisation whose objectives we share. Where possible we try to build consensus and find pragmatic solutions which achieve the real outcomes for wildlife that we all want to see - nature's recovery in communities across the UK.

2. Our commitment to your privacy

We are committed to keeping the personal information of our members and supporters safe. This policy explains how and why we use your personal information, to ensure that you remain informed and in control of your information. It also set out your rights in relation to our processing of your personal information.

Any references to Essex Wildlife Trust, the Trust, or to 'we' or 'us' refer to:

3. What do we mean by personal information

Personal information can be anything that identifies and relates to a living person. This can include information that when put together with other information can then identify you. For example, this could be your name and contact details.

We use three key definitions to describe people mentioned in this policy. These are definitions used by the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK's independent body set up to uphold information rights (www.ico.org.uk)

'Data subject': this is you. As the data subject, we respect your right to control your personal information also referred to as personal data.

'Data controller': this is us. With your permission, we determine why and how your personal data is used (as outlined in this policy).

'Data processor': this is a person, or organisation, who processes your data on our behalf, with your permission. For example, this might be a mailing house who sends your membership magazine to you, on our behalf (due to the size of our organisation, it's more cost effective to outsource ad-hoc and large-scale tasks like this).

When we work with other organisations or individuals in this way, we always set up a written contract with them to protect your data. This agreement outlines that any third parties we work with at no point 'own' your data, so you will never hear from them independently and they will always delete your data from their systems when they have completed the task in hand. We always send your data to partner organisations securely, to minimise the risk of it being intercepted by unknown individuals and/or organisations.

We will never sell your personal data.

Should you wish to find out more about the information we hold about you, or about our privacy policy, please contact us:

4. Why do we collect your personal information?

We use your personal data to keep in touch with you.

We will only ever collect, store and use your personal data when we have an identified purpose and reason to do so. The ICO refer to this as a 'lawful basis' for processing your personal information. Further information about why we collect your personal data is outlined below.

a) To administer your Essex Wildlife Trust membership

We collect your personal data to administer your membership, which may involve:

- Sending you your membership welcome pack when you first join us
- Processing your Direct Debit subscription payments, if you have set this donation process up with us
- Sending you your membership renewal letter
- Getting in touch should there ever be any issues processing your subscription payment

The ICO define the lawful basis for processing your personal information for these purposes as 'contractual'.

b) To send you items purchased from our online shop, including event bookings

We collect your personal data to send you:

- items you have purchased from our online shop
- information about events you have booked onto

The ICO define the lawful basis for processing your personal information for these purposes as 'contractual'.

c) To send you information about our work

We also collect your personal information so that we can send you information about our work that we feel may be of interest to you. This includes fundraising appeals, events, campaigning opportunities, membership, services, products, newsletter requests, feedback, competitions and other activities, as well as information about other carefully selected organisations with whom we work in partnership with (such as Vine House Farm's bird seed catalogue).

This information is in addition to that outlined in sections a) and b) above, and is defined as 'direct marketing' by the ICO.

Your personal information also helps us to get to know you better and to develop a 'profile' of you on our secure supporter database. This 'profile' enables us to send you the information listed above in a timely and relevant way, to suit you. For example, keeping track of the donations you make to our organisation helps us to send you information about fundraising appeals that we feel you would like to hear about. Likewise, keeping a record of your wildlife interests that you may tell us about in one of our Membership Surveys, helps us to send you relevant project updates.

As defined by the ICO, we use two different lawful basis for processing your personal information for 'direct marketing' purposes:

i) Legitimate interest

This is where we have identified a genuine and legitimate reason for contacting you, which crucially does not override your rights or interests

We use legitimate interest to send you the information listed above by post or telephone (if you are not registered with the Telephone Preference Service, and you have given us your telephone number).

ii) Opt-in consent

This is where you have given us express permission to contact you by particular communication channels.

We use opt-in consent to send you the information listed above by email, text message (SMS) or telephone (if you are registered with the Telephone Preference Service)

We respect your right to update the way we get in touch with you about our work at any time.

d) To enable you to volunteer with us

If you are a Essex Wildlife Trust volunteer, we collect your personal information so that we can keep in touch with you about, for example:

- changes to planned volunteer work programmes that you may be taking part in
- the positive impact you have on our work, by sending you our volunteer newsletter
- dedicated volunteer thank-you events
- contact next of kin in case of an emergency ie for safeguarding reasons

As defined by the ICO, the lawful basis for processing your personal information for these purposes is 'contractual' (where administering your volunteer record) and 'legitimate interest' (when sending you information about our work).

4. What kind of personal information do we collect? How do we collect it?

a) Basic information

We will usually collect basic information about you, including your name, postal address, telephone number, email address and your bank details if you are supporting us financially.

Most of the time, we collect this personal information from you directly. Sometimes this is in person; other times, it is over the telephone, in writing or through an email. Occasionally we obtain information, such as your telephone number or other contact details, from external sources (only where you have given permission for such information to be shared).

b) Getting to know you better

We also collect information about you that helps us to get to know you better. This may include:

- information about your wildlife interests, which you tell us through our Membership Surveys
- records of donations you've made towards fundraising appeals
- your preferences of regarding how you would like us to contact you
- ways you've helped us through volunteering your time
- records of events you've attended, or campaigns or activities that you've been involved in

Sometimes we will collect other information about you such as your date of birth and gender. When we do so, we will be very clear as to why we are collecting such information, and we will only do so with your specific consent and permission.

Once again, most of the time we collect this personal information from you directly. Occasionally we also obtain personal information from external sources. For example, we may check against Royal Mail's National Change of Address database to ensure that the address we have listed for you is up to date. We know moving to a new house can be a busy time and appreciate that you don't always have the chance to send us your new address. By undertaking this exercise, we can update your record without you needing to get in touch.

We may also collect demographic and consumption data generated through geodemographic tools (such as CACI Acorn), as well as information related to your wealth. This may include information from public registers and other publicly available sources such as Companies House, newspapers and magazines. If you do not wish your personal information to be collected in any of these ways, or have questions about them, please contact us.

d) Children & young people

In line with data protection law, we will not collect, store or process your personal details if you are under 13 years of age; unless we have the express permission from your parent or guardian to do so.
